

List of Employers

GRACE believes in you! Employment is crucial. Yet, unfortunately, most people who are released from incarceration have a difficult time finding employment. GRACE believes that each person who wants to work and to be productive should have a chance to gain adequate employment. Fact, more than 650,000 ex-offenders leave prison every year. Studies show those who have jobs are less likely to return to prison. Individuals with criminal records have a much longer tenure and are less likely to quit their jobs voluntarily than other employees. All About Grace, Inc., recognizes the important role “having a job” plays in your life. This list provides some employers to consider during your job search.
